Somebody Goofed With County Hospital Fund Papers

Hancock County muffed its getting a new hospital this year for the reason that its application for state aid was not correct.

In an interview with Fowler of the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Administration, the facts in the case were revealed.

It was also stated that all is not well with the funds may be available next year if the situation now is that we have a complete application to submit to the state and therefore the county can take no action.

Mayor Warns Against Throwing Garbage in Streets

Mayor John Scaife issued a warning this week "to any person caught dumping garbage on the side of the city streets."

Scaife said, "There has been quite a bit of this in the past but I have told my police force to use every possible means to apprehend persons doing such things like this in the future."

"This is a health menace to the town as well as making an unsightly spot on a city street. The first violator that is caught doing this will be made an example of to discourage others who may be guilty of the same type of violations."

Three Arrested For Shooting Guns in City Limits

Three persons were arrested this week for shooting firearms in the city limits of Bay St. Louis.

Mayor John Scaife confiscated the firearms and placed the violators on a suspended sentence.

Mayor Scaife said, "There is grave danger attached to shooting firearms within the city limits. There is a possibility of someone being killed or seriously injured by such carelessness."

"For this first time on the full penalty permitted by the law will be administered to those caught violating this city ordinance."

Three Experts Lecture to BWGC

A two part program in which Mr. Jake Scharff of Memphis, Tenn., a member of the National Iris Society, and Mrs. J. W. Hill, Jr., of this city participated was presented to members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club at their monthly meeting this week.

Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Walter Gex, Mrs. H. A. Eldredge, Mrs. W. W. Baltar, Mrs. J. R. Rollins, Mrs. W. W. James, Mrs. A. L. Rau, Mrs. Elizabeth Weston and Mrs. George Lehlteiner.

Procession Sunday For Marian Year

Under the sponsorship of the Knights of Columbus, Pere Le Duc Council No. 1522, and joint cooperation of the other societies of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, a Marian Year Celebration will be held Sunday, October 24 at 2:30 p. m.

A procession will form at Our Lady of the Gulf Church and proceed to the St. Stanislaus Day School where the Holy Rosary will be recited.

Rev. George O'Malley, C. M. will deliver the sermon. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be given at an outdoor altar.

If possible, every man, woman and child able to walk is urged to participate in these ceremonies.

Trio Arrested For Shooting Scrape Sunday

Constable Nolan Kingston arrested three men Sunday for being involved in a shooting scrape in Middletown.

Kingston said, "I arrested Jed Benton, J. P. Boyd and Jerry Davis. The shooting resulted out of an argument between Benton and Boyd. Boyd had thrown Benton's clothes out of the house he was renting from him. And the two started arguing." Boyd then got a hammer after Benton who began to run away.

"While running Benton jumped the fence of Davis, who is the brother-in-law to Boyd. Davis got out his gun and began to shoot at Benton."

No one was injured. All three are out on bond and will appear before Judge Nelius Rhodes for a hearing Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

'GO TO HELL'

That, in effect, is what the Board of Supervisors told the people of Hancock County to do.

We hesitate to print such a phrase in a family newspaper. But we are dedicated to reporting the news. And the only way to describe the Tuesday Board Meeting is to report what the Board told the voters.

It was, indeed, a disgraceful exhibition of greed and fear—greed to hold onto paltry jobs at all costs, and fear of presenting the issue to the people for a vote.

The board's attorney made quite a point of explaining how the petition papers must be in so very proper order.

This was an interesting observation— from a board which just cost the county a hospital because the papers to get the money weren't filled out properly and in time.

Yes—faulty papers can cause the people to lose funds for a hospital. But faulty papers cannot be used when they want to bring an issue to a legal vote.

There is legal redress, of course—in the courts, at the polls and in Jackson.

The people of Hancock County WILL have their way. They will get to vote on re-districting the county.

But, that, of course, is no longer the issue.

The issue now is that the county is operated by a Board of Supervisors which defies the will of the people and the law of the land.

One lady was so astonished at the disgraceful and ludicrous performance that she got up and said, "Surely these gentlemen must have some reason for refusing to act. I ask them to explain this reason to us."

The honorable members of the board did not answer. They just sat, and squirmed, and hoped the storm would blow away.

Some have tried to cloud the issue and tell folks in the country that re-districting will take away their roads. This is not true.

The roads will be maintained as well as ever, and in some cases better. Of course, there will be a little less wood preservative available, but we've had something of a surplus in that anyway.

No, the issue is not roads.

The issue is a Board of Supervisors which looks the voters in the eye, brushes aside the constitution with a sneer, and says: GO TO HELL.

A. K. THOMPSON SPEAKS AT MEETING

OSINACH TALKS TO BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Board Defies Voters' Demands

By GREGORY FAYRE

The League of Women Voters joined with Supervisor Manny Hubbard and Clerk A. C. Mitchell this week in making an independent check of the signatures on petitions calling for re-districting Hancock County.

Most of the signatures were found valid. With 688 names verified, 78 per cent were qualified voters. This left 524 names to be checked and 100 more to be re-checked. It is estimated that 750 signatures are needed. This means that if only half of the number are valid, then the petitions contain enough signatures to force an election on the issue.

However, this check by the league was purely unofficial. The Hancock County Board of Supervisors, at an unprecedented mass meeting Tuesday, flatly refused to take action even though they were told by two attorneys that the law demands an election.

Supervisor Hubbard moved that the signatures be turned over to Mr. Mitchell for an official check. But there was no second to his motion. Only a squirming silence from Supervisors Jack Lott, Frank Kellar and Joe Jones. Supervisor Johnson Shaw was absent.

Following their refusal, voter after voter spoke—demanding, pleading and cajoling the "silent three" to give some indication why they refused to act.

"But they only sat and sat," Lucien Gex, attorney for the board, said that there may be flaws in the petition. Hubbard pointed out that there were technical flaws in many of the board's official papers. He pointed out one such flaw to Mr. Gex.

"All you said," Hubbard told Gex, "was that the government doesn't run the county. You did not do anything about those flaws."

Although the Board refused to authorize the clerk to make an official check, two supervisors said we are checking.

Hubbard challenged them both. "You might be checking behind my scenes," he said, "but no one is authorized Mr. Mitchell to make the official check we need."

Henry Osoinach, Jr., who presented the original petition, opened the meeting Tuesday by giving the board an additional list. This was accepted—but this acceptance doesn't mean anything since the board did not turn the list over to the clerk for an official check.

Osoinach, the originator of the petition, stated, "Mr. Gex has been looking for minor details where the citizens will be denied a right to vote on this issue. They may find a few discrepancies but this should not deny us the right of American citizens to vote on something which we have shown that we want."

Hubbard said, "There were similar changes in the beats in 1951. There are flaws in beat lines but I have never heard the attorney rule them wrong. It is the duty of the board of Supervisors to respect the will of the majority of the voters in Hancock County. If there are some minor objections this would not be any means of disregarding the will of the overwhelming majority of the voters of this county."

A. K. Thompson, a retired engineer rose from the crowd and asked to speak. He said, "This meeting is the most unprecedented meeting in the history of the state. The people are up here begging and pleading with their elected officials to give back to them the right given them by the constitution. Why should you be compelled to leave your homes and places of business and plead with them as you are doing today."

"Make up your minds. If you are going to be defeated by technicalities like these there will not be any form of democratic government in this country. This issue is of such vital concern that you have to fight and win."

Both attorneys for the petitioners agreed that the board had to call an election. John M. Gardner of Gulfport, one of the counsels, said, "It is the duty of the board of Supervisors to respect the wishes of the people of Hancock County. The supervisors should recognize the clear meaning of that petition and should recognize their statutory duty."

Joe Blass, of Wiggins, the other attorney said, "If the board does what the statute calls for you will have to act now. It does not leave the board any discretion whatsoever. The board has only the right and the duty to determine whether the petition contains the signatures of 25 per cent of electors."

Earl Ramond, another of the civic leaders in this project said, "We only want the right to prove we are free American citizens. The free right to vote."

Hubbard then got into a discussion with supervisor Frank Kellar and said, "In the last election when 40 voters didn't vote right they were kicked into another beat. Beat 5."

Osoinach read the oath that the board of supervisors had taken when they were sworn into office and asked that they live up to the oath.

Hubbard made his motion to turn the petitions over to the Clerk to check the qualifications. It was not seconded.

A spokesman among the crowd asked, "I would like to know if the board is going to continue to stand in defiance of the law."

The League of Women Voters offered to help in checking the petitions to see if all the signatures were qualified.

After several more minutes of discussion by the board a couple of the members of the board began to walk out. It was pointed out by Earl Ramond that "the board is walking out on you without making a motion to adjourn the meeting."

This brought a great deal of noise from the people. The board sat down again. And then they adjourned the meeting.

The board will meet again November 1st.

Harvest Ball Saturday Night

Plans for the Annual Harvest Moon Ball of the American Legion were being completed this week with the crowning of a king and queen of the Saturday night event highlighting the program.

Legionnaires and their guests will hold the dance on the recently finished lower floor of the Legion home. Funds obtained from admittance to the ball will be used to pay for gifts for disabled veterans at the VA hospital.

The gala event, one of the peaks of the ball social season here, will begin at nine o'clock. A large crowd is expected to participate.

UN Flag

Raised Monday

The United Nations flag was raised in impressive ceremonies held at the Hancock County Court House Monday.

Speaker for the occasion was Gen. Louis F. Guerre, who explained the significance of the flag and the organization it represents.

Boy Scouts Scott Favre, Billy Monti, Lloyd Cuevas, Alvin Genin, Carl Gottschalk and John Gottschalk participated in the flag raising.

Representing the United States Committee on United Nations Observances was Mrs. C. C. McDonald. Mayor John Scaife was honorary chairman. Mrs. Russell Elliott was chairman.

Spirit is the backbone of any athletic team. And heading the list of sports requiring this enthusiastic, vigorous zeal is football.

Every member of a gridiron team should be keyed to the height of eagerness - an eagerness to win, first and foremost - but also a desire to improve himself and thus become a definite asset to his teammates.

Spirit in either thoughts or words is a form of energy that spreads. After it has been aroused there is no controlling it.

Your writer had a chance to witness this type of team and individual spirit at the halftime of one of the St. Stanislaus games this year.

As the boys filed into the dressing room they quietly took their places on the benches located near the walls of the team's quarters. They were trailing. At first thoughts of self-pity was obvious on their faces. Gloom was setting in fast. It was possible that their spirit had been broken.

But then a loud, clear voice penetrated the silence.

And a cheer of encouragement followed. It progressed through the room.

The players were beginning to recapture their liveliness. It was a slow process. For the first few minutes there was only an occasional wave of reassurance.

But then, like an epidemic, the noise broke loose. It started with the shout of one peppercorn: "Let's go Rocks! This is our half. We gotta go. We can do it if we want to."

The players snapped out of their lethargic shell and began to shout.

They talked of the mistakes they had made and how they were going to correct them.

They were building up to a pinnacle of spirit. This was it! This was the stuff that makes champions. This was the will to fight back.

The coach gathered the boys in a circle. He gave them a few phrases of wisdom and told them they would remember the next 24 minutes of ball the rest of their lives.

Then there was silence. Not because there was any loss of spirit. But because they stood, their hands on top of each other, saying their prayers.

Then the players lined up at the door to return to the field. There was quite a difference on their faces from when they entered the room.

For now they were NOT just 30 boys. They were, instead, one team - a team that was going to win.

Bay Juniors

Lose, 19-6

The Bay High Junior team, which up to now had not been scored on, lost to the Picaune Junior team, 19-6.

Coach Donald Caldwell said, "At times our players outplayed Picaune. Picaune got all the good breaks. In the first quarter, James Gin picked up a fumble on Picaune's 20 and ran to the 10 before being brought down. The play a pitchout to Mike Demoran scored. The try for extra point failed.

It Takes A Maze Of Electronics For Your Two-Bits Ride Over the Bridge

By GREGORY FAYRE

The Bay St. Louis toll bridge is a mammoth modern, and stable structure of concrete and steel, but it must be described as an electrical robot, designed for the betterment of the Gulf Coast and the comfort of the travelers.

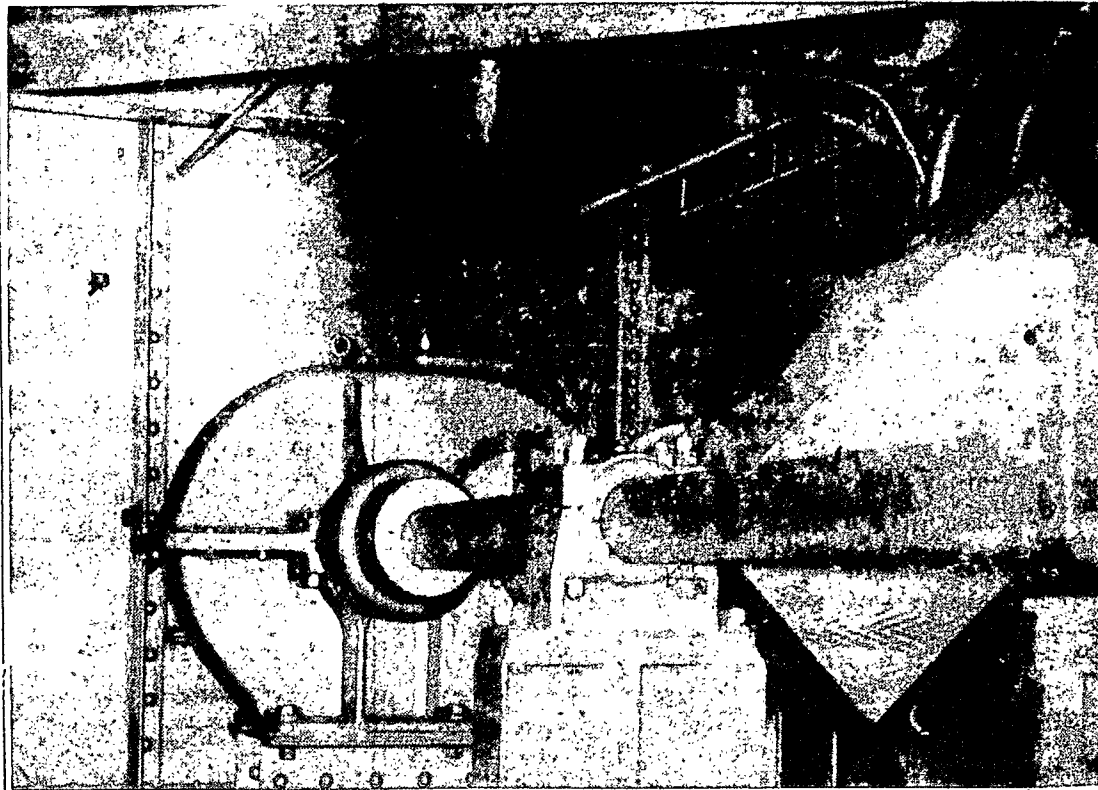

Every device connected with the operation of the bridge is powered by electricity. By these means all of the complicated machinery and tabulating equipment is reduced to a minimum of simplicity.

With a turn of a few dials and the sturdy of an automatic degree graph the huge draw can be lifted and closed with the utmost safety. The draw cannot be moved unless the gates to stop the traffic are lowered and likewise the gates will not lift until the draw is fully closed.

The entire bridge is completely in an auxiliary motor in case of a power failure. This allows proper service at all times.

Toll collection is figured to a cent with the use of a remote control machine located in the bridge office building.

The vehicles that cross the bridge are divided into 10 classes, according to the number of axles and the toll price. There is an automatic counter in the roadway that counts the actual number of axles that have crossed the bridge.

Each toll collector classifies every individual vehicle as it crosses through the station. This is done by means of a button which he presses. The classification of the car, when he pushes this button inside the booth, is shown in the glass compartment on top of the booth.

The remote control machine inside computes the number of each class of vehicles every hour on the hour. Each collector is given a key. When he places this into the number machine, it stands and turns. It to the remote control unit immediately shows his number, which is the means of identification of all the collectors, the time he came to work, the number of vehicles that have crossed before he arrived in each class and will continue to register the number that cross while he is on duty.

The collector places the money he received from tolls into a safe and he turns his report in. These are both checked with the readings of the remote control device. This method insures complete accuracy in the collection of the money. It is fool-proof.

When the machines used by the collectors have to be repaired, the only means of entering these is with a maintenance key. So, as one but the holder of the key can open the machine. Therefore there is no danger of someone tabulating tolls on another man's number.

The piece of wire that is located in the middle of the entrance of the toll station is not a registering machine. It is a ground. This was placed there to protect the collector from being shocked.

The office building is installed with showers and lockers for the workers. Also for their convenience a money counting and testing machine was secured. With this machine a collector can just place his money into the top of the device and it will separate the change and give him the total of the coins counted in each division.

Every once in a while the collectors have to contend with someone who pulls up into the toll station and says he hasn't any money. E. G. Harriel, superintendent of the bridge, said, "Most of the time we will loan them the money out of our own pockets. Sometimes you find someone who tries to act smart. They think that because they are driving on a federal highway they should be able to cross free of charge. But this bridge is not federal. These usually travel around the long way."

"The only people allowed to cross the bridge free of charge are the workers on the bridge, the highway patrol, and the national guard when they are on duty. When I am off duty I have to pay just like anyone else. We all have to sign a ticket when we cross while working. When someone crosses free a special number is registered so that the collector will not be charged with this vehicle."

He added, "One of the pleasant things concerning this job has been the public. They have been very nice. The majority do not gripe about paying the toll."

There are nine collectors, three draw tenders and one assistant superintendent working with Harriel on the Bay Bridge. The collectors are Lester Seals, Chester Bourgeois, Averill Allen, Robert Spence, John Remus, Walter Parker, Alvin Ladner, H.

COMPARES RECORDS—Fred DeMetz, assistant superintendent of the bridge, checks the records taken from the remote control machine and checks them with the individual records of the toll collectors.

PAINTING DRAW—One of the state's workers is shown as he sprays a protective coat of aluminum paint over the draw bridge.

L. MacArthur, R. W. Willer, the draw tenders are, Dave Ladner, Sam Cuevas and Glenn Parker.

These men work eight hours a day, six days a week. They change their shifts periodically.

The mercury vapor lights on the bridge are turned on each night by means of a timing device.

Recently the Bay St. Louis bridge was awarded a prize as one of the most beautiful outstandingly constructed bridges of its type in the United States.

Vigilance Promised

Hancock County got some tasty publicity last week. A Mid-Western couple complained of being doped and duped on a Highway 99 stop, and the news was splashed on Page One of the big dailies.

The next jump was to the Sheriff and the District Attorney? Mr. Holman usually is elusive about the whole thing. But then D. A. Holman usually is elusive about such matters. He hasn't given credit over anything since he was elected.

Sheriff John Egolet was the next man - and he, at least, came up with something concrete.

He promised to put his deputies on the alert for the shysters who come south a-flooding every winter. He admitted that these deputies cannot watch every man in the county every hour, every day.

But the deputies generally have a darned good idea of what's going on. And if they follow the Sheriff's vows, there will be no such incidents marring the name of the county this year.

It is true, of course, that these unwitting tourists are a little guilty themselves. They may not be ruined in the various types of skin games. But they do know they're sticking their necks when they start gambling with strangers. Often they pay dearly for their folly.

But that doesn't mean we want these rackets to continue. They should just be stamped out, and, obviously, it's up to the Sheriff to do the job.

A Great Event

This is the 75th anniversary of the first practical electric light. And it's worth-while to think back upon the accomplishments which have resulted.

From this contribution of Thomas A. Edison have come blessings running from safer surgery to night football and baseball.

There's hardly a moment in your life that you don't benefit from the electric light. You don't think about it when you flick the switch.

And that, in itself, is a great tribute to the developers of the light. You don't think about it, because it has become a part of you.

Buyers' Mart

While the housewives in town are taking advantage of the weather to wax floors and hang curtains, every fisherman for miles around is lining the river.

The Buyers Mart took a turn around the Chas. A. Breath establishment this week to see what's new in motors, boats and boating equipment.

This business, which all of Breath's life has been a hobby, became a full time operation after World War II. The owner had, some years before, sold his haberdashery business and gone to work for Higgins Inc. When the war was over, he settled down in his big backyard and went to work on his own again.

There this week the new line of Johnson Motors, which agency Breath has handled for 26 years, is on display. The newest models in these motors is "Twin". From the three H. P. $148.50 model to the 333.25 h. p. electric starting motor, the trend is to greater operation.

But don't go to Breath's Lane, where the shop is located, just to buy motors. The establishment does repairs on motors and boats, handles equipment for you to do your own work, handles trade-in on boats, can build you a Chris Craft kit job, or store your boat for from two dollars up, depending on the size of the craft.

Breath sells Lyman H. mostly. These he goes to Sandusky, Ohio, and brings them down himself. The 1955 models which he just hauled in a few days ago cost $525. They have, says Breath, only a few minor changes in them this year, one of these being a glove compartment.

While you're looking at the boats, you'll want to check the fiberglass one displayed. This neat looking piece of equipment is cast in two pieces. It has buoyancy tanks and Breath, who has taken it out on a demonstration trip, vouches for the fact it's really fast.

The mechanic who assists at Breath's place is Black Poolson who has been in this spot for six years. The painter is Emilie Schindler.

With their aid, Breath keeps humming his business in recording motors (which are priced at $25 up) and boats.

Outside his shop now he has a boat he took on a trade, which he describes as a 12 foot, six inch outboard runabout, complete with trailer and priced at $160.

Another bigger boat he has for sale will need some minor repairs but at $600 he calls this 21 foot sedan cruiser a good buy.

If you're interested in having Breath build you a boat from scratch, in about three weeks (at this time of year) the shop will turn out a 16 foot Chris Craft kit, model complete with motor, sailing, painting and the rest of the works for approximately $1500.

Something new on the market here is the product "Sealant" sold by Breath. This is a Dupont product for repairing cracks and covering the bottoms of boats to make smooth and fast.

He sells, too, Woolsey paints, water skins for the growing number of fans of this sport and any other boating equipment you can't find in his shop, he can probably order for you.

Blanket Drive Successful Here

The blankets for Korea program sponsored here by the Auxiliary of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 has had overwhelming success, according to a statement today by Chairman of the Committee Mrs. G. C. Romanoff.

The local unit was requested to furnish one blanket. Members were requested to check their lockers for an extra blanket. To date twelve blankets have already been turned in and apparently many other Legion and Auxiliary members intend to also give blankets to the drive which is sponsored on a national level by the National Legion Auxiliary Unit.

The committee has decided to ship the twelve blankets already received and to extend the time to allow more contributions. Mrs. Romanoff announced that arrangements had been made with the Legion for Russell Elliott, of Bayou Caddy to receive blankets from donors of the Clermont and Lakeshore area. Bay St. Louis, Waveland and other county areas are requested to bring their blankets for Korea.

to 403 Main Street for transportation to the needy in Korea. It is not essential that the blankets be new as long as they are serviceable. Mrs. Romanoff said.

The public is invited to join in this movement by donating blankets at either place named.

Legion Plans Armistice Day Parade Event

Fred E. Favard, Sr., chairman of the Americanism committee of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 stated this week that his committee will undertake to hold an even bigger Armistice Day Parade with that of last year.

Favard says every effort would be made to have the Special School American Committee to call on every school in the County to urge their participation in the parade this year. Time limitations may prevent the committee from appearing at all schools but each will be contacted by mail.

Full information of the part expected of each school will be explained to each school as soon as all plans are completed, Favard said. In the meantime, it is hoped that all schools will decide to have more students marching this year than in last year's parade.

County School Supervisor E. E. Breland assured the Legionnaires that the same arrangements would be allowed for county students to attend and participate in the big parade on November 11. Transportation will be furnished for the students from their homes to school and thence to Bay St. Louis for the parade.

It is understood that the same arrangement for local students will be allowed again this year, Favard said.

New Legion

Members Noted

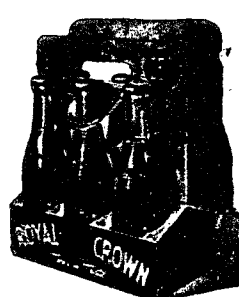

Tom Bressler, Chairman of the membership committee of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 stated this week that the Legion's sustained drive for members was producing gratifying results.

Several books containing the names of 25 members each have been turned in by members of the committee, he said. A check-up revealed that many more are near completion and that the next few days should show a large number of brand new members.

Band Auxiliary Meets Monday

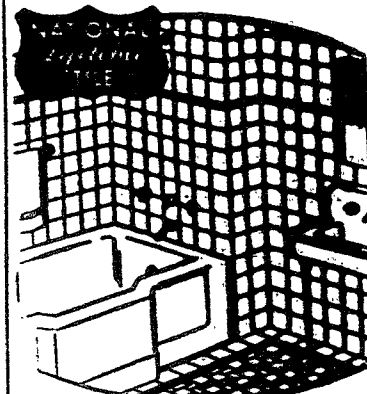

The Bay High Band Auxiliary will have its regular monthly meeting in the Bay High Auditorium, Monday, October 25th, at 8:00 p. m.

Parents of students in either the beginners, junior or senior band are invited to attend and become members of the organization.

The Basic Idea Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

Almost 25 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles, and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within any reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday, or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

Modern Etiquette

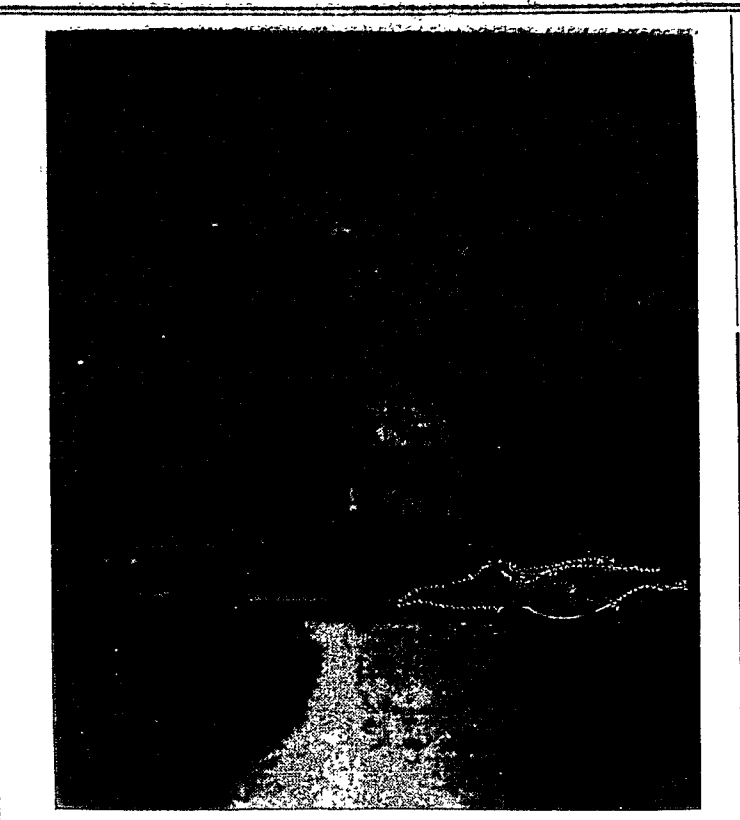

Q. Is it all right to use a folded napkin to brush crumbs off the dinner table?
A. Yes, this is quite all right, and it usually does a good job.

Q. Which is correct form, "Mrs. Whitney, this is my husband," or, "Mrs. Whitney, this is Mr. Smith."
A. The correct form is, "Mrs. Whitney, this is my husband."

Q. Is it proper to invite the minister and his wife to the wedding reception?
A. Certainly it is the most courteous thing to do.

Q. Should letters of invita- tion be sent to a home chris- ening?
A. These invitations are usu- ally telephoned, or else friends are personally asked. But it is also correct to write notes.

Q. When attending a dinner dance, what should be done with the napkin when one leaves the table to dance?
A. The napkin should be left unfolded at the side of the plate.

WAYSIDE SHRINE - This is the Wayside Shrine St. Augustine's Seminary is placing facing Highway 90. It is one of five being constructed throughout the country.

Seminary Builds Wayside Shrine

Work is progressing on a large Wayside Shrine to the Sacred Heart, which will face Highway 90 on the property of St. Aug- ustine's Seminary in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

This Shrine is being sponsored by the Laymen's Retreat League and friends of the Seminary. It is one of five such shrines throughout the country erected under the auspices of the En- thronement of the Sacred Heart in the home of which the Re- verend Francis Larkin, SS. CC., of Washington, D. C., is national director. Other shrines are lo- cated in our Nation's Capital, New York, Chicago and Mil- waukee. Last summer, Father Larkin and Mr. Joseph Elliott of Chicago chose St. Augustine's Seminary as the site for such a Wayside Shrine in the Southland.

A prominent knoll overlooking a much travelled Highway 90 was selected for the shrine. Mr. Eli- cott is a zealous lay apostle of the Enthronement and it was he who first conceived the idea of these Wayside Shrines to the Sacred Heart.

Upon hearing of the proposed

Shrine in honor of the Sacred Heart, His Excellency, The Most Richard O. Gerow, S. T. D., Bis- hop of Natchez, wrote: "I want to encourage you in the work that you are doing in developing devotion to the Sacred Heart and I like the idea of the Wayside Shrine to the Sacred Heart fac- ing Highway 90. As an image of Our Divine Savior and His Sacred Heart, it will be a per- petual reminder to the passerby of the love and affection of Our Lord for His children and will induce many to thoughts of piety and prayer, and for this reason will be an excellent thing."

The Shrine is under the local direction of the Very Reverend Robert E. Pung, S. V. D., Rec- tor of St. Augustine's Seminary. The construction work is being done by Mr. Thaddeus Bourees of New Orleans, a member of the Laymen's Retreat League of St. Augustine's Seminary. The Enthronement of the Sacred Heart maintains its Southern Secretaries at the Seminary. The Rev. William Adams, S. V. D., is prefect of this Secretariate.

The day for the official ded- ication ceremonies has not been set as yet. However, it will be announced as soon as possible for the benefit of the laymen in St. Augustine's Retreat League

FALL ARMY WORMS

Farmers who are fortunate enough to have oats up had better be on the alert against fall army worm damage.

These worms are general feed- ers. They strip the leaves from the plants. At first, the worms feed close to the ground and are hard to find. Unless you keep close watch for them, they can strip your field before you realize they are there.

You can control them with either dust or spray. Dust with 10 to 15 pounds of toxaphene or 1 pound DDT per acre. This would be 1 quart of an 8- pound per gallon toxaphene or 1 pound of DDT per acre. Or spray with 2 pounds of toxaphene 5 per cent of DDT per acre. This would be 1 quart of an 8-pound per gallon DDT emulsion mixed with enough water, to cover an acre.

For detailed information see your county agent and get a free copy of Extension Publi- cation 196, "Kill Field Crop Insects."

PASTURES

Take advantage of the ASC program in painting fall and winter grazing crops. The ASC is offering to pay around one half of the cost of seed and fer- tilizer and a dollar an acre for land preparation.

Some of the suggested places to plant this winter grazing are on land where cotton, corn, Silage or hay has been harvested. You can take advantage of these areas that are already ready for planting and plant by the sod seeding method. ASC will assist with the cost of planting. For specific details, see your local county agent.

DAIRYING

Artificial breeding offers the services to the best bulls obtain- able to owners of small and me- dium sized dairy herds.

Here are some of the advan- tages of artificial breeding: The need of keeping an expensive and dangerous herd bull is elimi- nated. One or two more cows can be kept in place of the bull. This cow, or cows, if of good production ability, will pay their own way and also pay for the and friends of the Seminary, who have and still are taking an ac- tive part in making this Shrine, their tribute to the Sacred Heart, a reality.

artificial breeding service in the average herd. Danger and trouble involved in keeping a bull is eliminated. Artificial breed- ing conception rate is at least equal to that of direct bull ser- vice.

There is less danger of spread- ing diseases that will affect the breeding of the herd. The bulls used in artificial breeding studs are backed by a much higher production than a large percent of the best privately owned bulls and the artificial breeding stud bulls are as good as the best bulls in the best pure-bred herds.

FORESTRY

The supply of loblolly pine seedlings is limited this year and distribution will be made on a first come, first served basis. Farmers are advised to check with local county agents as soon as possible and make requests for pine seedling.

BONDS

U. S. Savings bonds offer a convenient method of saving to replace farm machinery. Make you plans now to put a part of all income into savings bonds so that when your tractor, or other farm machinery needs re- placement, you will have the cash available.

Remember too, regular savings in U. S. Savings Bonds which pay interest at the rate of three percent compounded semi-annu- ally, will help greatly in edu- cating your children.

The savings bond programs offer security during times of emergency. Bonds can readily be converted into cash. The ideal goal is to have enough money in U. S. Savings Bonds to run the farm for a year even if you don't receive a single dollar from the sale of crops.

Bond Sales Up In County

Sales of Savings Bonds in Sep- tember continued on the upward trend, according to Mr. Fred Herlihy, Chairman of Hancock County's Savings Bonds Com- mittee. September sales for the county were $22,982, giving a total for 1954 of $65,912, or 43.9% of the county's quota.

People of Mississippi, he re- ports, have brought $22,769,159, from January through Septem- ber, which is 12% more than was bought for the same period in 1953, and 52.3% more than was bought in 1952.

JESSE LEWIS, KITCHEN ARTIST, RISES TO FAME WITH RECIPES

A lot of people in Bay St. Louis tuned in on WDSU's TV program - NEW ORLEANS COOK BOOK - on Monday, October 20th and whether they were at the Bay, Long Beach or Lumberton, Miss., or in New Orleans, every member of the Ballard family tuned in and stayed with the program until the end.

They were very proud of the program's guest of honor, Jesse Lewis, who has been butler and super cook for the Ballard's home at the Bay for close to forty years.

The recipe prepared for the TV audience was Jesse's Shrimp Buffet, a cocktail party special. A hollowed cabbage is filled with cold boiled shrimp, highly seasoned and served with Jesse's own tangy sauce, which he made on the spot. Was Jesse nervous? Not a bit. He might as well have been in his own kitchen. He appreciated the applause very much.

If ever you were a week end guest at the Ballard home, perhaps you have tasted his Creole gumbo with crab, shrimp, okra and other wonderful ingredients or his redfish court-bouillon or that marvelous crab cake. Just hush and bow your head when you think of his Diamond back terrapin ragout cooked in wine. Perhaps you have seen for breakfast and still remember his bean and rice and the fragrant shrimp and okra.

These recipes, which are being put into book form by two of the Ballard family members, are being prepared by Jesse Lewis, who has been cook and butler in the Marshall Ballard family for many years, has had his well known recipes put into book form by two of the Ballard family members. He also appeared this week on a New Orleans television cooking show.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top... and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned... power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up... by power, if you like. There is a tachometer... and a clock with a sweep second hand. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

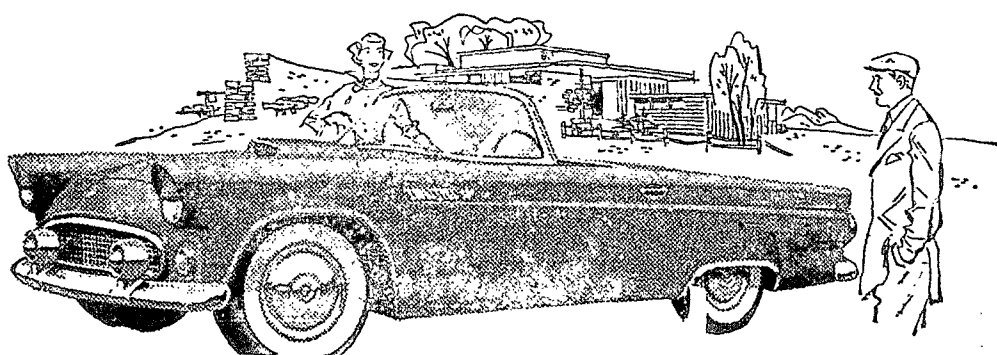

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you have the Thunderbird with the transmission choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

for so many years editor of the New Orleans Item, was a hearty eater and enjoyed good meals. Mrs. Ballard was a wonderful cook and with her training and Jesse's natural cooking ability, the results became famous.

Jesse particularly enjoys cooking for men and his rich brown gravies and even his red beans and rice and plain mashed potatoes with that gravy satisfies any appetite.

When it came to desserts, Jesse believed in turning the crank on the old-fashioned ice cream freezer and wore out many of them. The Ballard children, Edith, Marshall, Sam, Ruth and Caroline, still speak of that watermelon sherbet, the frozen cream cheese, the vanilla and chocolate creams and the strawberry, fig and peach ice cream made with pure cream.

The children are devoted to Jesse because he helped to raise them and each one of them has said at one time or another, "Oh, Jesse was with the family long before I was."

STANISLAUS TIED BY STRONG DE LA SALLE TEAM; MEET RESERVE SUNDAY

by the running of quarter-back Fakler and halfbacks Alldape and Billy Rhodes. Stanislaus played to a tie with the undefeated New Orleans prep contenders De La Salle.

40 seconds remaining in the game the Louisiana team scored a touchdown and kicked extra point to tie the score.

Stanislaus travels to the neighboring town where it will meet Reserve School, the undefeated team in the Class AA South district.

Two boys were injured in the game. Louie Lad first string end, received a serious injury. He suffered a dislocated shoulder and was out of action from three to five weeks. Alldape, Charles Rick and Douglas Talbot, all starting players are recovering from leg injuries. Woodie Santa Cruz, the leading fullback, was sidelined with a busted nose. All of these members should be ready for the Reserve game.

Fakler scored both of the touchdowns for Stanislaus on quarterback sneaks. He bucked from the one yard line and the foot line. Santa Cruz kicked the first extra point but it was called back and Stanislaus was penalized 15 yards. His second try from the 17 yard line was blocked. He was successful after the second touchdown as he split the goal posts.

De La Salle scored first after a couple of minutes had passed in the first quarter. Lorio swept around end for 12 yards and the score. The point was missed.

After several line plunges by Alldape and Rhodes, Fakler threw a long pass downfield to James Schexnayder to place the ball deep in De La Salle territory. Following a few short gains through the line Fakler scored on the sneak.

The local team took the lead in the third quarter when Fakler scored the second touchdown. The point was good.

With less than a minute left Lorio made an outstanding catch of a long pass to bring the ball to the Stanislaus two yard line. From there Walter Kelly bucked over to score. The kick was good.

With the seconds ticking off Stanislaus tried several desperation passes but failed.

Coach Farley Day said, "We thought the boys played their best game of the year against De La Salle, that is after the first quarter. They got off to a slow start because they had to adjust themselves to the single wing of the opposing team."

BAY DEFEATS COAST RIVAL, LONG BEACH; POPLARVILLE NEXT

Charlie Moran, center for Bay High, was injured in the 2-9 victory over Long Beach but will be ready for the game this Saturday in Poplarville.

Moran's hip was split and required several stitches. Bay High meets the strong Poplarville High this weekend. Poplarville has suffered only one defeat this year at the hands of Brooklyn. It had not been scored on until its fourth game with Purvis High.

Coach Lance Lumpkin said, "This Saturday night we should meet one of the strongest teams we will face this season. Poplarville is a veteran ball club. We feel that if our line will play a little harder and rush the passer faster we might be able to stay in the same stadium with our opponents."

"Poplarville is one of the leading contenders for the De Soto Conference crown. Barring any unexpected injuries our team should be in fine shape for this game."

Last Friday night Lumpkin's 11 marched to a hard earned victory over Long Beach representatives.

Long Beach took an early lead when after four plays from the line of scrimmage it scored and added the extra point.

Bay High bounced right back into the ball game when after a similar number of plays Hugo Favre bucked over from the four yard line for the touchdown. The try for the extra point failed. Long Beach led 7-6.

Bay High lead by the quarterbacking of Donald Cole and the rushing of Tommy Holden, Henry Monti and Favre moved back into scoring position. From there Cole threw a 30 yard pass to Adams who crossed into the end zone for the second score for the local team. The extra point was added with another pass from Cole to Adams.

Bay High scored its last touchdown when Favre drove over center from the two yard line, Monti made the point after touchdown on an off tackle run. Long Beach was awarded a safety when Donald Cole recovered and fell on a blocked punt in the end zone.

Coach Lumpkin said, "All of our boys played heads up ball. Our downfield blocking was better than it has been. Mistakes in the Long Beach game were reduced considerably. Cole handled the ball very well and his selection of plays was also good."

STARS OF THE WEEK

ST. STANISLAUS

Alfonso Alldape, a first year halfback, was the leading ground gainer for his team against De La Salle last week. He runs hard and fast. Several times with the aid of one block Alfonso could have gone all the way.

On a number of occasions during the night he evaded being tackled by a little twist of his body or by dropping his head and running over his opponents.

This is the first time that the South American boy has played football. He lettered last year in basketball.

Since the beginning of school when Alldape reported for practice Coach Farley Day has stated that he could develop into the type of runner that they were seeking. A boy who is always good for a few yards and one who can go for the long runs at any given time.

BAY HIGH

Clayton Adams becomes the first lineman from Bay High to be honored by being chosen Star of the Week.

Adams scored one touchdown and an extra point against Long Beach last week and helped his team considerably in the victory over its annual rivals.

Adams has scored on several occasions for Bay High this year. He is a capable pass receiver, a good blocker and a quick reacting defensive man.

Clayton has kicked the majority of the extra points for Bay High this season.

He is not too big a boy but has a lot of hustle. He is always trying to improve. He is in senior year at the local school.

In the Long Beach game Clayton made a couple of nice catches of passes, one for 30 yards and a touchdown. He also scored the point after touchdown on a pass.
